

Dr Bex Lewis
 1975 – 2021
 Keep Calm and Carry on with some Heyer Joy

My final memories of Bex are discussing ideas for celebrating the centennial of the Black Moth; and I saw on Facebook that in her final couple of days, she was listening to the audiobook of the Black Sheep by Georgette Heyer.

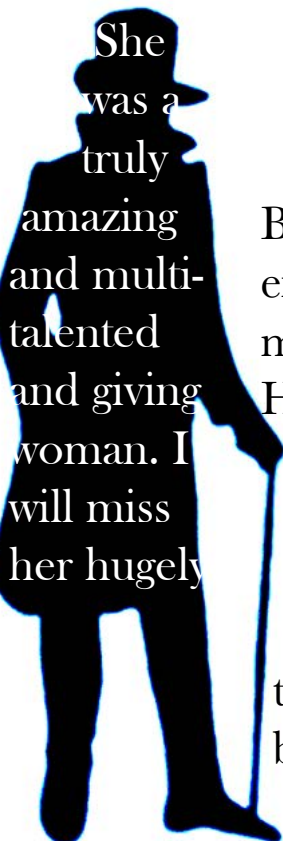

I can honestly say that knowing her has felt like a huge blessing. The outpouring of grief on Facebook only goes to illustrate what a very special person she was. RIP Bex. You will be missed.

Keep Calm and Carry on
 With Some Heyer
 Joy

I wish I had known her for she sounds like a tremendous person. I'm so glad she had such wonderful friends and that Georgette Heyer's novels brought her comfort in her final days.

She was a truly amazing and multi-talented and giving woman. I will miss her hugely Bex was an extremely active member of the Heyer community and had contributed so much. We are so sad that she won't be here with us.

Bex will be very much missed by the Heyer community and all who's lives she touched.